Communal Harmony

Communal harmony means that people of different religions, castes, creeds, sex and different background live together in the society with love and peace amongst them.

Communal harmony strives to create goodwill and harmony among various communities. The aim is to foster an ethic of coexistence and respect for the religious and cultural values.

Part IVA. Article 51-A (e) of the Constitution on communal Harmony

The Constitution casts an important fundamental duty on its citizens in says that “it shall be the duty of every citizen of India to promote harmony and the spirit of common brotherhood amongst all the people of India transcending religious, linguistic and regional or sectional diversities.”

Some suggestions for promoting Communal Harmony:

- ✓ Organize exhibitions highlighting unity in diversity in the country.
- ✓ Organize film festivals and screen films that depict our country's rich diverse culture, and appreciation of this diversity.
- ✓ Promote intercaste & interreligious marriages: Dr B.R. Ambedkar was of the opinion that the most effective way to tackle with the problem of casteism is to promote intercaste marriage. Unfortunately, our society is moving in the opposite direction, and young couples are being killed for marrying across religion and caste. The government should openly promote inter-caste and publicly honour couples who have such marriages.
